

Jessica Luan

A Moment in the Mind of a CS101 Student:

Stuck on APT

8 right now, so I'm doing

This haiku instead

Thinking all the way

Back to my very first day

It has been so long

Programming knowledge

Of mine was completely blank

There was much to learn

Through assignments, and

APTs, and quizzes, and

readings, lectures, tests

I have learned so much

I now (mostly) understand

Lists, loops, sets, and dicts

There's still much to learn

I do not know if next year

I'll take comp sci

But I do know that

I am glad I took this course

Because I've become:

A better thinker,

Designer, problem-solver,

Time manager, and

Most importantly:

I'm proud to say that

I can program now.
