

Poem of My Exploration in Computer Science

Computer Science at Duke

By Daniel Sul

I have been told that,

Computer science 101 will be an adventure.

There were numerous challenges that I had to face.

APT's brought me adversities.

We all worked together as we are all in this together.

Whether or not there was bad weather,

We were stronger and smarter,

When we worked together.

Computer science 101 was an adventure.

We all worked hard to study for the exams.

While listening to our jams.

Programming assignments were difficult,

But the results were magnificent.

We have grown throughout the semester,

Like an Adult.

Computer science 101 was an adventure.

APT quizzes were nerve-racking

Exams' difficulties were no joke
But we put in our best effort.
That is why we do not have any regrets.
The subject was no easy-peasy dessert.
But eating the information was sweet
The sense of accomplishment and delicious.

Computer science 101 had been an adventure.
Despite the challenges I faced,
Despite the difficulties we tasted,
Now we are bittersweet to be done, finally.
But I am glad and sad to say bye, happily.
This is my lullaby,
To computer science 101.
Good bye.
