

CompSci

It has never been my tendency

To procrastinate or submit things late-

A day of grace helped keep the trait

How else would I succeed?

There was no moment of reprieve

The first thought is “mistake”

With one task left: create

One final, then some time to breathe.

Of course, there is a debt of gratitude

To teachers, TAs, and to friends

Whose expertise helped get me through-

I wouldn't make it without them.

To call it fun would be a lie

This is my happiest goodbye
