Computer Science 101

Yo, welcome to 101, where our curiosity takes flight
Turning our reds into greens, and coding late into the night
From the first "Hello World" to the recursions that are mean
By the end of this semester, we're all seeing green!

When I started day one, I didn't know what to expect
I always liked medicine, so this was a new subject
Line by line, I learned how to print and loop
Everytime we won our lab jeopardy, I went "whoop whoop!"

APT after APT, the grind was truly real
Some tests hit me hard, but I felt better after a GSoy meal
But when the green letters popped up?
Man, the hype was insane
After all, maybe computer science is in my lane!

Shoutout to the labs, the lectures, and the TA crew
Guiding us through problems I never thought I'd do
Looking back now, it's kinda wild to see
This class helped unlock a whole new side of me

So here's to the class and the knowledge we gained
To the errors we tackled and the Wordles we gamed
CompSci 101, yeah it's been a ride
I've unlocked something new... a whole new sense of pride
