

There once was a school named Duke
It's academic prowess none could rebuke
The school housed CompSci 101
At first, learning python seemed fun
The young students failed to foresee
All the potential sources of anxiety
For APTs in range (7):
    all_greens == heaven
We made turtles run in circles
And clear other impossible hurdles
We encoded messages long and short
Impressed, I hope, would be Caesar's court
We modelled our own worried faces
And tested it with hundreds of cases
Debugging didn't make me see a red hue!
I'm just kidding, (reverse=True)
I can finally unbookmark cs.duke.edu
Although I shall be sad that we are through
