

CompSci 101, oh how wonderful you are.

With APTs all green, you truly set the bar.

Your assignments are fun and practical,

Though I grow cross when the autograder is intractable.

I knew not how to code before this semester

Aside from the very basics I learned from a high school professor.

But now, the world my oyster,

I open my laptop and cloister

In my dorm and begin to type,

Imagining the 7 steps and getting so hype.

Thank you CS 101 for inspiring me so.

I can even make a code to help me win at Uno.

And though I still can't help plan efficient concert tours

For traveling bands who hate detours,

At least I can trick my friends

Into playing CleverGuessWord (they won't comprehend!)
