All of the CS101 Assignments as Various Waterfowl
From an Avid Waterfowl Fan

Assignment 1: American Black Duck

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- Pretty basic
- Fun, splash of whimsy, but there is little to be seen
- I could see it somewhere that wouldn't be in the wild (CompSci 101) and I wouldn't be surprised, not too out of the ordinary

Assignment 2: Surf Scoter

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- Looks like one of the funny faces randomly designed in our code
- Very primitive appearance, such as how the faces are fairly primitive in terms of coding

Assignment 3: Mandarin Duck

Sourced from Just Birding

- Look at those beautiful colors!
- Reminds me of a real life art piece, something contemporary and experimental, like my line of icecream cones I made in assignment 3

Assignment 4: Barnacle Goose

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- Makes me emotional (I got to see one of these beauties at Sylvan Heights Bird Park and was able to feed it! I cried of relief after finishing assignment 4)

Assignment 5: Bufflehead

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- My favorite duck for my favorite assignment
- Has a kind soul (I was able to finish it without wanting to tear my hair out)
- Doesn't want to trick or deceive you, whether at sea, in program, or while playing its silly little game

Assignment 6: Common Goldeneye

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- Scary, shocking, horrifying
- Evil twisted version of the previous assignment/duck
- We don't talk about assignment 6

Assignment 7: Trumpeter Swan

Sourced from Cornell's All About Birds

- Wants, no NEEDS to tell you something
- Big into recommendations
- Precursor to Yelp

Assignment 8: Domesticated Mallard
